RE-ENACT ALLEGED SCENES OF TRAGEDY

IN TRIAL OF BURTON GIBSON CHARGED WITH MURDER

Fisherman Illustrates How He Had Taken Woman's Body From the Water and Position in Which He Left the Body Lying.

GOSHEN, N. Y., NOV. 21.—An attendant lay on the court house floor this afternoon in the trial of Barton W. Gibson for the murder of Mrs. Rosa Henschik Szabo and with judge and jury and counsel grouped around him, re-enacted the alleged scene from the tragedy of July 16th, in which Mrs. Szabo lost her life at Greenwood Lake. Bending over him, Thomas Garrison, a fisherman summoned as a witness for the defense, illustrated how he had taken the woman's body from the water. He showed that he had left the body outstretched with the head pressed downward, the chin resting almost on the breast.

Through this illustration the defense hopes to upset the state's contention that the organs of the dead woman's throat were forced out of position by strangulation. Medical experts are to testify tomorrow that Garrison's treatment of the body was sufficient to have forced the tongue, palate and wind-pipe into the position in which the state claims they were found at the autoday.

Garrison was one of the ten witnesses for the defense today. He testified that he had seen Gibson and his companion in the boat and they had seemed to jump out. He thought they were swimming and paid no further attention to them.

Harry Laux, an electrical engineer of New York swore that Gibson and the woman did not struggle before the boat upset. They were standing up when Laux saw them and they were four feet or more apart. They jumped out, apparently. Laux thought they were diving. This testimony contradicts that given by John Minturn, state's witness, who said that Gibson seized his companion around the neck before they fell into the water. Three occupants of the motor launch torpedo, which rescued Gibson, swore he was exhausted when taken from the water.

"Don't mind me," he shouted, while in the water, these witnesses testified, "Where is the lady Do something for the lady."

John Minturn's testimony was attacked by Henry Heink, son of Mme. Schumann-Heink, who swore Minturn told him that he was so far away from the accident that he could not see what was going on.

Mrs. Gibson may take the stand tomorrow to testify that she knew of her husband's relations with Mrs. Szabo. Gibson himself may take the stand. The defense expects to complete its case during the afternoon and adjournment will be taken until Monday when counsel will sum up.

U. S. ASKED TO TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT JEWS FROM GREEKS

Say Greeks Are Plundering Jewish Quarters in Saloniki and Asks United States to Intervene.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—The United States government today was asked to take action to protect Jews in Turkey against slaughter by the Greek conquerers. The appeal was made by Adolph Krause, International president of the B'Nai B'Rith.

Mr. Krause forwarded to the state department at Washington the text of a cablegram which he received during the day from Constantinople, a few hours after Jews had been reported put to the sword at Saloniki.

"I forwarder the cablegram to Washington by telegraph," Mr. Krause said. "It tells its own story."

The cablegram to Mr. Krause, signed B'Nai B'Rith, read:

"In Saloniki the Greeks are plundering the Jewish quarter, desrouting the synagogues and outraging the women. The German and French governments have protested at Athens. We pray you to urge the United States government to act."

GREAT BAND WINS QUILT.

Great Band, Kan., Nov. 21.—A silk crazy quilt was installed today in the town lock-up, where, unless threatened protests produce an early effect it will grace the couches of the municipal boarders.

Mrs. Minnie Johnson Grinslead, of Liberal, Kan., president of the seventh district suffrage association offered the quilt to that town in the district giving the most for the suffrage campaign. Great Band won. The only beds the city owns are in the calaboose. So there lies the quilt. It was made by Mrs. S. A. McClain of Santa Fe, who is 92 years old.

HILLES AGAIN SECRETARY.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Charles D. Hilles today resumed his duties as private secretary to President Taft, succeeding Carmi Thompson, appointed treasurer of the United States.

Mr. Hilles formally resigned to become Republican national committee chairman several months ago.

TURKEY REJECTS BALKAN TERMS

SUSPENSION OF EASTERN WAR LASTS ONE DAY

Conditions of Armistice As Laid Down By Bulgarians Prove Too Extreme for Turks and Hostilities Commence Again at Tchatalja Lines.

LONDON, NOV. 21.—The formal suspension of the Eastern war proved only for a day. Turkey rejected the Balkan terms for an armistice, apparently before the plenipotentiaries had time to come together at Hademkeui.

Kiamil Pasha, the grand vizier, declared that the allies overtures "were impossible." He ordered the commander-in-chief to continue fighting, "with the help of the Almighty," until reasonable and moderate conditions were proposed.

This decision came as a surprise, and diplomats are not wholly convinced that the Ottoman troops will really take up arms again in the cholera-stricken trenches of Tchatalja.

While the Bulgarian conditions—for Bulgaria is acting as the mouthpiece for the allies—were extreme, stipulating the surrender of Adrianople and Soutari, both of which strongholds are making an historic defense as well as the ceding of all the territory, except a narrow strip above the Constantipole, these conditions were advanced as overtures; in other words, they were apparently put forward as a basis for negotiations.

The porte treated them as an ultimatum, and this perhaps is the Oriental method of beginning negotiations, designed to induce the enemy further to show his hand. Balkan diplomats in London pointed out tonight that these terms were submitted merely as an answer to Turkey's pressing and repeated demands for an armistice, and said:

"It is practically certain that their rejection will result in a more active and determined resumption of hostilities. Probably the allied troops will not refuse to treat with Turkey until they are in a position to dictate perhaps sterner terms in the capital of the Sultan."

The negotiations thus far have been conducted through the Russian ambassador at Constantinople, but the Turkish ambasador at Berlin, Osman Nazami Pasha, was on his way to join his colleagues appointed to meet the Bulgarian representatives when the Turkish governments' startling decision was telegraphed to them. Even yet it would seem that the Turkish officials have not abandoned hope that the powers will come to their rescue and attempt to dictate a compromise, but Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, announced tonight that the powers had not gone to far as to arrange a general conference after the conclusion of the war. Their only agreement as far as surface indications go, is to keep their hands off.

Yet the probability of the resumption of hostilities has started rumors afresh from Vienna of Austrian and Russian mobilizations on their borders and a naval demonstration by the triple alliance on the Albanian coast of Servia pushes her onward march to the coveted seaport.

The continued successful defense of the Tchatalja lines would undoubtedly strengthen Turkey's diplomatic position, but defeat after prolonged fighting of her own chosing would inflame the Bulgarians desire to make a triumphal progress into Constantinople.

Popular clamor in Sofia is demanding more strongly each day that the advance shall stop only at the Bosphorus.

European military officials consider the allies terms harsh in one respect—that is, that they should concede to the garrisons of Adrianople and Scutari the right of marching out with the honors of war which they have earned, instead of compelling an unconditional capitulation. Two more chapters of the war are reported a naval engagement off Varna between the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh and Bulgarian torpedo boats, and the occupation of Florina by the Greeks. The Bulgars report that they did great damage to the Turkish cruiser. The Turks report that they sank two torpedo boats and that the cruiser was only slightly damaged.

By the occupation of Florina, which lies to the south of Monastir, the Greeks, according to the Athens report, have cut off the rear guard of the Turkish army, to the number of 30,000 retreating from Monastir.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION MEETS.

Open Forty-fourth Annual Convention in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21.—Opening their forty-fourth annual convention here today more than 500 delegates to the National American Woman Suffrage association, after a meeting of the national executive board, were conveyed in automobiles to independence square, where an open air mass meeting was held.

The square was crowded and the speakers from five temporary stands were cheered. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the national president, received a prolonged demonstration.

The business session of the convention was held this afternoon at which delegates were welcomed by the mayor and others. The national president made her annual address tonight's session and addresses were made by leaders of the movement, the four newly enfranchised states—Kansas, Michigan, Arizona and Oregon.

BIG WAVE LEAVES TRAIL OF BLOOD

MORE THAN 100 KILLED IN COAST TOWNS ALONE

Great Storm Does Awful Devastation in Western Section of Jamaica--- Details are Gradually Coming in From Other Sections of the Country.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, NOV. 21.—The official estimate of the dead in the hurricane and tidal wave which visited the western part of Jamaica places the number at more than 100 in the coast towns alone. Details which are gradually coming in, indicate great devastation in the western section.

Practically all lighters, coasting sloops and small craft in the harbors of Green Island, Montego Bay, Lucea and Savanna La Mar foundered, and a large proportion of the crews were drowned.

Many persons living in these towns lost their lives in the collapse of buildings.

The house of the American colony at Montego Bay were greatly damaged, but no casualities are reported. The governor-general of Jamaica, Sir Sidney Oliver, reached Montego Bay today and found conditions so dreadful that he immediately ordered the despatch of several hundred additional tents and large quantities of food supplies from Kingston. The railway lines are now working within twenty miles of Montego Bay, but the telegraph lines still are down.

The tidal wave at Savana, La Mar, was the highest in a century. One coasting vessel was washed half a mile up the main street. Fully 90 per cent of the houses were blown down. The two principal hotels were unroofed, as were all the churches and the railway depots.

The sea swept over the streets in the lower section of the town and rows of dwellings were piled up in a large heap at the mouth of a gulley, where the largest number of the bodies were recovered. An American tourist who was in that town during the hurricane, said forty bodies had been recovered up to the time of his departure.

At Green Island, eight miles southwest of Lucea, the American said, there was much wreckage ashore and afloat, but no sign of life could be discovered.

At Lucea ten bodies were found directly after the storm had subsided.

ENDORSE PLAN FOR STATE AND NATIONAL BUREAUS OF INFORMATION

National Grange Takes First Step Toward Co-Operative Marketing of Farm Products.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 21.—The Brauer plan for a $10,000,000 corporation for direct co-operative marketing of farm products was voted down by the National Grange today after a sharp fight.

In place of the Brauer plan, the grange endorsed a plan for state and national "bureaus of information" as the first step toward co-operative marketing of farm products. By this plan each state grange will establish a bureau which subordinate granges will keep informed as to marketing conditions. This information will be informed as to marketing conditions. This information will be furnished to all the subordinate granges and to the national bureau of information, to be operated in connection with the office of national secretary, which in turn will inform other state bureaus.

A resolution endorsing the senate bill providing for a bureau of markets in the department of agriculture was adopted.

WANT ELECTION OF PRESIDENT BY DIRECT VOTE OF PEOPLE

Senator Works Will Introduce Amendment to Constitution So Providing.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Senator Works of California, will introduce a resolution when congress reconvenes for the amendment of the constitution providing for the election of president and vice-president by direct vote of the people. The senator will urge in support of the measure that in addition to its directness, it would have an advantage over the present method in that it would avoid the possibility of a presidential election by the house or a vice-presidential election by the senate.

WITNESSES TESTIFY IN EMBEZZLEMENT TRIAL

TAKE STAND IN TRIAL OF FORMER U. S. SUB-TREASURY EMPLOYE

Events Leading up to the Discovery of the $173,000 Shortage Are Recounted—Witness Sees Nothing Unusual in Fitzgerald's Demeanor.

CHICAGO. NOV. 21.—A number of witnesses were put on the stand by the government today in Federal Judge Carpenter's court in the trial of George W. Fitzgerald, a former employe of the United States subtreasury in Chicago charged with the embezzlement of $173,000 of government money.

H. S. Lock, a currency counter testified that he had been in the cage of the sub-treasury about five times on the day the shortage occurred, Feb. 20th, 1907. Fitzgerald was always in his cage on these occasions, the witness said. The only other person he remembered seeing in the cage was Frank J. Walsh, now clerk of the criminal court, and then employed in the sub-treasury.

"Walsh and Fitzgerald were standing together in the cake talking," Lock said. Welsh had some gold certificates in his hand. "I did not notice aything out of the ordinary."

The witness recounted the events leading up to the discovery of the shortage. He had taken over the books on that night, as Fitzgerald had asked to be excused on the following day, because of the death of his sister-in-law.

"You didn't notice anything unusual in Fitzgerald's demeanor when he reported the shortage, did you?" the witness was asked.

"No I did not," he replied.

Lock said however, that during the evening while an effort was being made to discover the money. Fitzgerald begged to leave the office twice when his nose started to bleed.

W. G. Clucas, William S. Cable and Charles A. Ranker testified to the methods of handling the money in the sub-treasury.

CHICAGO CITY BAKERIES SHOW LACK OF SANITARY PRECAUTIONS

Aldermen Who Inspect Bakeries Unanimously Declare for Home-Baked Bread for Themselves in Future.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—A committee of aldermen appointed to inspect city bakeries found a stray dog asleep on a pile of loaves of bread in one shipping room and loaves about to be delivered, piled in an alley where the wagons came in at another bakery. Lack of sanitary precautions in the handling of bread are general, according to the committee's report after a day's study of conditions.

The committee saw bakers picking up scraps of dough that had fallen on the floor and tossing them back, covered with dust and sweepings, into the mixing troughs.

The committee unanimously declared for home-baked bread for themselves in future.

WITNESS ANSWERS ONE QUESTION AND ARGUMENTS ADJOURN COURT

Former Employee of National Cash Register Company Does Not do Much Testifying.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 21.—The first witness to testify in the case of John B. Patterson and twenty-one other officials and ex-officials of the National Cash Register company, of Dayton, Ohio, charged with having violated the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust act, answered one question today, and during the argument that followed, court was adjourned until tomorrow.

The witness, Henry G. James, of Detroit, testified that he was formerly employed by the National Cash Register company. Attorneys for the defense immediately objected to his testifying on the ground that he could not give any evidence that concerned the National Cash Register company after 1890. Arguments between attorneys followed and before a ruling was made on the point Judge Hollister adjourned court.

The [illegible] hearing was set for next Monday.

FARLEY CASE MAY GO TO JURY TODAY

GIRL CHARGED WITH SHOOTING FINISHES LONG EXAMINATION

Pretty Stenographer Completes Two Day Cross Examination and Leaves Stand Almost in State Of Collapse When Ordeal Closes.

COLUMBUS, O., NOV. 21.—Both the state and the defense completed the introduction of evidence today in the first degree murder trial of Miss Cecelia Farley, the pretty state house stenographer, who is charged with shooting Alvin E. Zellinger, an advertising solicitor, in a city park last May, and the case is expected to go to the jury some time tomorrow.

After having been on the stand continually for more than two days, Miss Farley completed answering the cross-examining questions of the prosecuting attorney shortly after the noon recess today.

She left the stand weeping and all but in a state of collapse when the ordeal was over. The prosecution had forced from her admissions of her relations with Jerome Quigley, the man she was to marry.

Clearing the space in front of the jury box for the second time during the trial, Miss Farley again went through the dramatic actions, demonstrating the story of the defense of how Zollinger was "accidentally shot." This time Prosecutor Turner acted the part of Zollinger, instead of Miss Farley's attorney. The description was more graphic than the first one.

While holding the revolver to the prosecutor's head at the same distance she claimed it was from Zollinger's head when it was discharged, the distance was measured by attorneys and found to be 17 inches.

The prosecution introduced an expert who declared that he had made experiments and that powder marks could be seen on human flesh from a revolver 26 inches distant. The defense had previously introduced an expert who declared that powder marks could not be seen on the flesh from a revolver held more than six inches away. Attorneys for both the prosecution and defense have agreed to limit their final arguments and pleas to a short time.

FASHIONABLE BEAUTY WEDS WRONG MAN BY MISTAKE

Elopes With Man She Believed to Be Son of Railroad Magnate Who Turns Out to Be Chauffeur.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Aimee Givens, divorced wife of Robert S. Givens, a member of Chicago's fashionable set and a former Detroit beauty, today discovered that she was the central figure in one of the strangest matrimonial tangles that has occurred in Chicago within a year.

After eloping to Crown Point, Ind. Wednesday with a man whom she believed to be a son of Marshall M. Kirkman, former vice-president of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company, she was told that the man was Mr. Kirkman's chauffeur.

At the marriage which took place at 2 o'clock in the morning, the bridegroom gave his name as "Edward B. Kirkman." There is no member of the Kirkman family by that name.

Servants in the Kirkman household assert that "Edward B. Kirkman" in realty is William Boehm, Mr. Kirkman's chauffeur, recently released from service.

Detectives are searching for Boehm, who is said to have gone to Danville, Ill.

Mrs. Boehm's marriage to the chauffeur, whom she thought to be a son of the wealthy family became known through a search she made for Boehm yesterday after he left her following a quarrel. This report was confirmed late tonight when the former Mrs. Givens appeared at detective headquarters and asked that search be made for Boehm whom she said had deserted her.

"I thought he was Edward B. Kirkman," she said, when we were married at Crown Point. I want him found and made to give an account of himself."

Mrs. Boehm did not return to her bridal apartments at the fashionable north side hotel where she and Boehm went after their marriage, but went to another. Mrs. Boehm is reported to have entrusted her husband with a good sized roll of bills.

NO APPOINTMENTS UNTIL MARCH

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Governor E. F. Dunne, elect, will not make any state appointments until March 1. He purposes to go away again in a few days to some quiet place, there to work on his inaugural address.

The governor-elect says he intended to move slowly and avoid mistakes, if possible, and to this end he was going to study the situation and the responsibilities of the office first.

"There is no need of haste in making changes in the state service," Mr. Dunne said. "It will not be necessary to make any changes of importance befone March. I feel that I should first get in touch with the entire situation and I want to look the ground over thoroughly before making changes.

EX-PRESIDENTS WILL RECEIVE PENSIONS

CARNEGIE CORPORATION PROVIDES $25,000 ANNUALLY

To Enable Former Executives of the Nation to Devote "Their Unique Knowledge Gained in Public Affairs to the Public Good."

NEW YORK, NOV. 21.—Future ex-presidents of the United States are to be pensioned in the sum of $25,000 each annually by the Andrew Carnegie corporation.

The grant is provided for with the idea of enabling former executives of the nation to devote their unique knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. A similar amount is to be paid widows of ex-presidents as long as they remain unmarried.

The pensions are to be promptly offered to the ex-presidents or their widows, so that no application will be required for them. Payment is to be continued so long as the recipients "remain unprovided for by the government."

The announcement followed the second annual meeting of the corporation, held at the residence of Andrew Carnegie here and attended by the corporation's eight trustees. Five of these eight trustees are the heads of the five institutions which Mr. Carnegie has founded—The Carnegie endowment for international peace, Elihu Root, president; the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, Henry S. Pritchett, president; the Carnegie institution of Washington, Robert S. Woodward, president; Carnegie hero fund commission, Pittsburg, Charles L. Taylor, president; Carnegie institute of Pittsburg, Wm. H. Frew. The successors of these five men, from the Carnegie corporation of New York.

In addition there are three life trustees, Andrew Carnegie, Robert A. Franks and James Bertram. The trustees authorized this statement of the corporation's aims:

"A total of $125,000,000 in securities has thus far been transferred to the corporation, which will carry on the various works in which Mr. Carnegie has been engaged and such others as he may from time to time think it advisable to establish. Mr. Carnegie believes he has taken the surest means of securing for the future a body of the best possible trustees. The heads of the institutions must inevitably be men of high moral and intellectual standing. They are empowered by a two-thirds vote to modify or discontinue any branch of service, which in their judgment has become inadvisable or unnecessary or better use can be made of the funds and also to adopt from time to time such work as by them may be deemed most desirable for the wants of the age, so from age to age the fund may be expended upon the most profitable work, whether that be the promotion of new ideas or the development of those of the day."

In the meeting the trustees took under consideration a number of matters directly in their keeping and concerning the details of which no announcement was made but the principal item of business passed upon was the pension plan for ex-presidents of the United States and their widows. The official anncuncement covering the matter follows:

"Provision has been made through this corporation for a pension for each future ex-president, or his widow, unmarried of $25,000 per year as long as these remain unprovided for by the nation, that they may be able to spend the latter part of their lives devoting their unique knowledge gained of public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary cares. Those pensions will be promptly offered to the ex-presidents or their widows, so that no application will be required from them."

No authorized reference was made to the matter of pensions, other than is contained in the foregoing announcement.

Robert A. Franks, one of the three life trustees of the Carnegie corporation of New York is treasurer of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching. Mr. Bertram is Mr. Carnegie's secretary.

TELLS OF OTHER LOS ANGELES JOBS

McMANIGAL CONTINUES HIS STORY IN DYNAMITE HEARING

Declares He Went to Los Angeles to Blow up Times Auxiliary Plant but Found it too Well Guarded and Gave up the Project.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., NOV. 21—Equipped with twelve quarts of nitro-glycerine, Ortie E. McManigal, in December 1910, went to Los Angeles, Calif., commissioned to destroy the Times auxiliary plant and by "adding a few more to the list of dead" to take suspicion off James B. McNamara, who had killed twenty-one persons in the wreck of the Times building two months before.

McManigal so testified today at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial. He named men other than the McNamaras as having inspired the second Los Angeles dynamite plot. He said he was prevented from carrying it out by the discovery on reaching Los Angeles that the auxiliary plant was too well guarded and illuminated at night. Instead he set a bomb in an iron works plant to explode on Christmas day.

That was the Christmas present, he said, Olaf A. Tveitmoe, a labor leader in San Francisco, had asked for and on his return east he stopped off at Labor Temple in San Francisco and on Tveitmoe being absent he left his message with Eugene A. Clancy:

"Tell Tveitmoe his Christmas present has been delivered."

It was the same "Christmas present" the government charges, which Tveitmoe later referred to in a letter to Frank M. Ryan, president of the iron workers' international union.

"Called Down" by John J.

On his return to Indianapolis, McManigal said he was "called down" by John J. McNamara because not enough damage had been done at Los Angeles and John J. proposed to send to Los Angeles by express bombs so regulated that they would explode when unwrapped, but McManigal protested, saying the explosions might occur on the train and kill innocent people.

McManigal and James B. had been in hiding in the Wisconsin woods, McManigal said, like a pair of pirates, each with a red handkerchief about his head in conformity with the game laws and a rifle over his shoulder when a number of detectives appeared at their lodging house.

Eluding the detectives they came to Indianapolis. So elated was John J. McNamara over the escape of his brother that he proposed that McManigal start at once for Los Angeles.

Leaves Indianapolis For Los Angeles.

"I left Indianapolis with twelve quarts of nitro-glycerine on Dec. 9," McManigal testified. "Four days later, I arrived in Los Angeles and had buried the explosive in a gravel pit near the river. I looked over the three plants I was to blow and saw that all but the Llewellyn Iron Works were too heavily guarded. On Christmas eve, going into the Llewellyn grounds a dynamite cap exploded and injured my hand. That put me out of humor. So I placed the twelve quarts all in one shot and set it for 2 o'clock the next morning. Then I went to San Francisco.

"When I reached Indianapolis in January, John J. was all ruffled up because I had not done more damage. He said I had spent too much money to do so little damage. It was decided, despite the hue and cry, that the dynamiting jobs were to go right on, only dynamite was to be used instead of nitro-glycerine, as it was more effective. John J. told me of the proposal to send bombs by express to non-union contractors. I told him that wouldn't be right, for you never could tell who would open the packages, and they might explode on the train. He replied he did not care about that.

Steals Dynamite From Quarry.

"I went to Tiffin, Ohio, and began to steal dynamite from a stone quarry at Bloomville, Ohio, and store it in a shed at the rear of my father's house at Tiffin. I stole three or four hundred pounds and on taking some of it to Indianapolis it was arranged for J. B. to help me carry it all here. The idea was that to steal the explosive was better than to buy it, for then no records were kept."

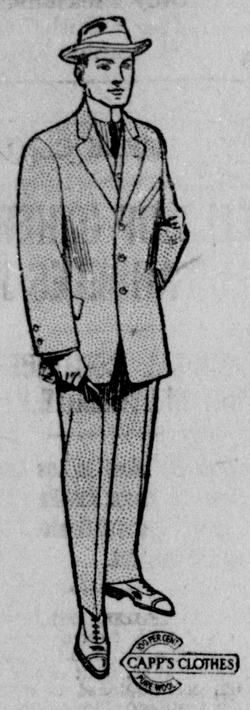

McManigal told of a conversation with Herbert S. Hockin, in which it was proposed to "get rid of" Miss Mary C. Dye, McNamara's stenographer at the union headquarters, "because she knew too much."

Ward C. Clifford testified concerning an interview with W. Bert Brown, Kansas City, Mo., a defendant at the time of the latter's arrest on the government's charges of conspiring illegally to transport explosives. Gifford said Brown declared he had lost his job as business agent of the union, because he was opposed to violence in labor disputes.

Wednesday he took a drive and his horse became unmanagable throwing him out and breaking his leg in the same place as before. WOMAN'S COUNTRY CLUB OF ORLEANS

RED LETTER DAY IN HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION.

Delightful Gathering at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Scott Near Arnold Station—Splendid Program Given With Pantomime, "Wanted, A Wife" a Feature.

A red letter date in the annals of the east part of our county is the annual gathering of the Women's Country club. It would be a delight to talk at length on the good of this organization, its eminent good sense, its manner of furnishing pleasant and useful variation to the ordinary duties of life but lack of space forbids suffice to say the members meet for mutual improvement and pleasure in many ways and once a year the great honor of being present at an annual celebration is accorded the sterner sex and always greatly enjoyed by them.

The president of the club is Mrs. James Holmes and last evening at the spacious and delightful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Scott, near Arnold station, the seventeenth anniversary gathering took place. The beautiful home was appropriately decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums and roses, a large box of the latter being the gift of Harry Hofmann. The first part of the evening was devoted to a formal program which was much enjoyed and was as follows:

Duet, piano—Misses Davies and Cunningham.
Address by the president.
Report of the secretary.
Piano duet—Misses Cunningham and Davis.
Pantomime, "Wanted, a Wife."
Recitation — "Jacob's Cut His Whiskers Off."
Piano solo—Mrs. Moeller.

The musical numbers were excellent and well received and all the above named were heartily applauded and highly complimented. Then came an impromptu offering from one of the guests.

The secretary's report brimmed over with wit and humor and evoked many hearty laughs and loud applause. The report was given in verse. Will be printed later.

The pantomime was a splendid piece of work. A man wanted a wife and received various applicants for the position. One was sure she would be received because she could wash so well; another applied because she was so good in music; the next was an exquisite society lady; another was fine with the needle; a fifth was such a good cook and at last came the all round woman who carried off the prize. The whole was irresistibly funny and pleased the audience immensely. The following was the cast:

The man wanting the wife—Mrs. Arnold.
Valet—Mrs. Harry Rice.
Washwoman—Mrs. Drury.
Musician—Mrs. Tindall.
Society lady—Mrs. Bennett.
Maiden with needle — Mrs. Dobyns.
Cook—Mrs. Scott.
Successful applicant—Mrs. Moeller.

Mrs. A. A. Curry covered herself with glory by reciting in an inmitable manner a humorous production "Jacob's Cut His Whiskers Off." She personified the garrulous old woman who had lived with her old man sixty years to perfection, winning great praise.

The following was the impromptu effort:

We all come together this beautiful night
To enjoy the occasion with ladies so bright,
And take to ourselves every little bon mot
In the dear, happy home of our friend Mrs. Scott.
So gentle and winsome and full of good cheer,
Not now, or for then, but for all of the year.
We all have the freedom of fine handsome farm,
The fields and the forest and even the barn.
And now sirs, be careful, walk straight, every cub,
We are guests here tonight of a wonderful club.
We have Arnold, not Benedict; Florence so dear;
We have Bennett called Mae, ever full of good cheer,
While Lillian will Cleary us all without sham,
As we tell of the praises of M. Cunningham.
We dont Curry favor with Minnie at all,
And kind Lucy Davis will not let us fall.
Whoa Dobyns, ho steady, why that's not a horse,
As Anna called Drury will tell you, of course.
There will be funny things which will make us all laugh;
If any one doubts it just ask Lizzie Graff.
We all know the glory our members have when,
We gather with pleasure with Lou Hinrichsen.
There's a big crum of comfort when anyone roams,
Be it ever so far he is sure of good Holmes,
With pleasure abudant, so merry and jolly,
And a house decorated with beautiful Holley.
While Eva Hulett him come back bye and bye,
And Juha, so Little, will give him a pie.
When Sophie and Carrie are Luken about
To see the great things they may sometimes find out.
We will hasten away to busy big mill,
And the home so attractive of Anna Magill.
Mrs. Rawlings says Grace and comes round in a trice,
With a pudding containing the choicest of Rice.

We have here mostly daughters who praises have won,
And for boys we have with us two fine Richardsons.
We know poems befitting this spot,
The work of our much value friend, Mrs. Scott.
She summons the Shepherd so brave and so true;
And if you are doubtful just ask Mrs. Sue.
We toil in the fields till our labor is done.
And report with delight to our Kate Stevenson.
For supplies we've a Stewart who is always on hand,
And supplies us with fruit, either fresh or well canned;
And she labors with zeal from the evening till dawn,
To help in her labors our dear Mrs. Strawn.
And there's Emma Tindall, so kind and so true,
And Margaret called Walter, who will always help you;
And the last on the list every evil will scorn,
For we know that our Bertha is very Welborn.

And now friends beloved, a happy surprise
Are the bread, the nice goodies, the cakes and the pies,
Prepared by the ladies who know how to write,
In prose or in poetry, causing delight.
They can sew, they can knit, they can boil, they can bake,
Anything that is eaten from crackers to cake;
They are finest housekeepers, we know without doubt;
If you do not believe it just call when they're out,
And then see how perfect they have everything,
And you will be certain their praises to sing.
So ladies, we thank you for having us here
On this beautiful night to enjoy the good cheer.
We are all very happy we freely confess,
May you have all that's good and your joys not grow less.
We've enjoyed your choice music and rare pantomine,
And we trust you'll not fail to invite us next time.
And in parting we'll say to our dear Mrs. Scott,
The pleasures we've had will not soon be forgot.
We'll remember this evening with gratitude true
And recall very often how much we owe you.

After the program came refreshments and the domestic committee charged with preparing this feature of the evening were Mrs. William Cleary, Mrs. George Holley, Mrs. Henry Stewart and Mrs. Lloyd Magill.

The bill of fare was superb and won unstinted praise praise from all present and showed that the ladies so able in literature, pantomine and music, were also adepts in preparing the good things of life.

A social time followed and with regret the guests departed saying one and all that the evening had been one of the greatest pleasures.

Among those present from Jacksonville were Mrs. J. W. Bowen, mother of Mrs. Scott; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Massey, Miss Margaret English and the Journal representative. From New Berlin were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilcox, and from Pleasant Plains, Mrs. Sally Witty.

PLAN TO WORK FOR GOOD ROADS

Mayor Davis Attended Meeting of Illinois Valley Association at White Hall—Local Club to Be Organized.

Mayor Davis, David Estaque and John Vieira went to White Hall Thursday in Mr. Estaque's McFarland six to attend a good roads meeting. Several weeks since a meeting was held in White Hall preparatory to organizing a good roads association and the purpose of the gathering yesterday was to complete the organization. By laws were adopted and the officers chosen to serve temporarily were named for permanent positions. The name of the organization is the Illinois Valley Good Roads association and it is proposed to organize clubs in various cities and towns. Representatives were present from Carrollton, Jerseyville, Roodhouse, Delhi, Alton, Murrayville and Manchester, and all of them expressed enthusiasm for the work which has been undertaken.

Plan Mass Meeting Here.

Mayor Davis is vice-president for Jacksonville and following the plan agreed upon will call a mass meeting at an early date with the end in view of organizing a good roads club here. It is likely that this meeting will be held the first week in December at the court house, although Mayor Davis has not yet fixed upon the date definitely.

One purpose of the Illinois Valley Good Roads association as previously announced is to make an effort to have the proposed stone highway from Chicago to St. Louis routed from Springfield to Jacksonville and then south through the towns and cities touched by the Alton road. If the highway goes this way it will run through a far larger number of cities than will be true if it is built south from Springfield through Carlinville and Litchfield.

Broad Work Planned.

However the work of the organization will be much broader thna this and it is planned to aid in various lines of road improvement. In no sense is the organization designed in the interest of automobile owners the purnose being to work for general road betterment, to include dragging, grading or building with gravel or rock. Good roads all the year round would mean money saved to the farmers of Morgan county and more business for the merchants and what is true here is true everywhere else in the territory represented in the Illinois Valley Good Roads association.

Mayor Davis will no doubt have the hearty support of Jacksonville and Morgan county citizens in organizing for road betterment.

W. R. C. NOTICE.

"EVERYBODY'S DOING IT"

Statesman at Washington Are Swamped by Letters Asking for Government Employment.

Washington, Nov. 21.—A deluge of demands for opportunity to serve the government — with proper emoluments—is sweeping over the advance guard of Democratic congressmen in Washington. Thousands of letters asking for government employment have been received and the senate and house post offices are working overtime handling the mail.

Speaker Champ Clark is keeping four stenographers busy dictating replies to applications for positions under the incoming administration.

While the speaker has received a greater number of applications than any one else, there has been no lack of letters to other members of congress who have reached Washington.

"I have received about a thousand letters in the last four days," said Representative Henry, chairman of the house rules committee, today, "and they still are coming."

Large audiences have been listening to these practical addresses, and this one on the many fads of the day will no doubt be equally well heard.

Be sure to come to the Christmas opening at the 5 and 10c store, 7:30 to 9 tonight.

WHAT MT. VERNON PEOPLE DID.

Mt. Vernon, Iowa, is a village of fewer than 15,000 people except when Cornell college, located there, is in session and then there are five or six hundred more. To meet the present day requirements of standardization, Cornell college recently completed a Forward Movement fund of $500,000 to enlarge its endowment increase, its equipment and liquidate its liabilities.

The little village of Mt. Vernon realizing the significance of the college to its people, after fifty years experience, took this Forward Movement onto its heart, made it its own. To Mt. Vernonites it was not a Cornell college movement, but a Mt. Vernon movement. A thorough organization and a systematic canvass rounded out a total pledge of $90,000 from that village and immediate community. This was an average of $60 per capita for every man, woman and child which it represented.

Should the people of Jacksonville contribute in the same ratio to the Illinois Woman's College, the aggregate would be $900,000! But Jacksonville has undertaken only $60,000, or four dollars per capita. Our chief danger is that we may think it too small.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH AT FRANKLIN

Ten Thousand Dollars Has Been Pledged Toward Structure and Work Will be Commenced in the Spring.

For several years the good people of the Methodist faith in Franklin have had in mind to build a new church and at last affairs have so shaped themselves that the building is already assured. Ten thousand dollars has been pladged and C. W. Buckingham of this city has been given the contract for drawing up plans to be submitted.

The people are expecting to build a church of brick structure, 60 by 86 feet in dimensions, with a seating capacity of 500 people. It is to be Tudor Gothic in style. The church will contain a basement, suitable for kitchen purposes, Sunday school rooms, reading room, social room, pastor's study and modern in every way. A place will be left for a pipe organ, which will be installed when enough money can be raised to buy one.

This is the third Methodist church that will have been built in Franklin. The present frame structure was built in 1861 and while it is still in fair condition, it did not fill the wants for Sunday school purposes and in a great many ways the people felt as though they needed a more modern church.

It is expected that the new building will cost between $12,000 and $14,000 and it will occupy the same site as the old church. It is the intention to begin work in the spring and have everything complete by the time the Illinois conference meets in the fall.

SETTLEMENT MADE IN GOHEEN CASE

Mrs. Goheen Receives Divorce and Gets $1,500—Husband Pays Suit Costs.

An agreement was reached in the Goheen divorce case Thursday which has been occupying the attention of the Pike county court at Pittsfield for the past three days. According to the terms of the agreement Mrs. Goheen is to have a divorce and Mr. Goheen is to pay her $1,500 and all the costs of the suits and that he is to dismiss the suit pending against Albert Peterson, whom he charged with alienating the affections of his wife. Mr. Goheen in no wise is to be responsible for the $350 note held by Peterson and is not to be responsible for any of Mrs. Goheen's debts which she contracted since she left him in September, 1911. She also surrenders all interest in the Goheen estate. It is stated that a settlement of the case was brought about through Judge Higbee. Those who had been following the suit closely, after the proceedings of Wednesday, were not surprised that an agreement was reached yesterday.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. CASE FROM FRANKLIN IN CIRCUIT COURT

Earl Fox is Given Verdict Against M. L. Anderson on Trespass Charge—Various Court Orders.

In the circuit court Thursday the case of Earl E. Fox against M. L. Anderson for trespass came to trial and the jury returned a verdict of $725 for the complainant. Judge M. T. Layman appeared for Mr. Fox and W. N. Hairgrove was attorney for Mr. Anderson. The case went to the jury about 4:30 o'clock and an hour later they made known their finding. The jurors were C. J. Ator, Taylor Moore, George, Meuhlhausen, R. B. Reynolds, J. H. Campbell, E. G. Todd, Allan E. Scott, W. A. Givens, W. H. Williamson, G. W. Gilliland, Elmer Meacham, Rhiney Steinberg.

The suit was the result of a fistic encounter down at Franklin, which happened some time ago. According to reports Fox and Anderson had some disagreement about a hog sale and Anderson struck Fox, who was sitting in a buggy. Later the men met in the park at Franklin and engaged in a conflict but other persons interfered and put an end to the struggle. Subsequently Anderson went into a justice court and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. Fox was arrested for disturbing the peace and a justice court assessed a fine against him. The case was appealed to a higher court and the proceedings against Fox were dismissed. Then he brought suit against Anderson, alleging personal injury and the trial Thursday was the result.

You know that most of the ailments named above come from an out of order stomach; of course you do.

If your food doesn't digest, but lays heavily on your stomach, it has started to ferment.

When it ferments it sets loose in the stomach poisonous gases which irritate the great nerve that leads directly to the brain from the stomach.

That irritation causes heartburn, dizziness, nightsweats, nervousness.

MI-O-NA will end all stomach misery, or money back. A large box costs only 50 cents and is sold by Coover & Shreve and druggists everywhere.

WALNUT GROVE SCHOOL.

A Fine Rural Temple of Learning Situated in the Northwest Part of the County.

The writer has another pleasant experience to record in the matter of visiting schools, this time Walnut Grove in the northwest part of the county where are gathered some of the brightest boys and girls to be found in any school in either city or country.

"Come and visit our school" was a hearty invitation from one of the directors and the Journal man was very ready to accept as it is always a pleasure to go on such enterprises.

The school house is located in a pleasant part of the county and has premises of very fair size though the children could probably use a lot a bit larger yet it is good and the great thing about it is the abundance of fine trees of good size. They are such a blessing to any structure, whether home or public building, and the trees in this case are large and there are enough of them.

The directors have recently erected a new fence about the place and now if they will get another move on themselves and paint the school house there will be nothing to criticise. Probably they have that in mind and as everything else was in such good condition no fault will be found in this direction.

The teacher of the school is Miss Bertha Whitlock who is serving the pupils for the fourth consecutive year which speaks well for the school the directors and all concerned. She received the visitor very kindly and invited him to be at home and do as he chose. As usual a talk was given the pupils regarding a foreign country and the children all paid close attention to what was told them. They are a bright, intelligent assembly of boys and girls and are evidently seeking after knowledge.

One feature of the occasion was peculiar and that was the desire to know something not only of the land especially described but of several other countries across the sea visited by the writer. They asked intelligent questions regarding the countries of which they wanted information and while the caller would have liked a few more questions on the land he was especially describing they did very well as a whole and the entire visit was pleasant.

Miss Whitlock said the directors refused her nothing and were kind and generous in supplying the school with maps, charts and in fact all that she asked them to get. In addition the pupile and friends had given some other valuable supplies so that on the whole the school is admirably equipped. They have quite a number of pictures on the wall though they would do well to get larger ones of Washington and Lincoln and add to the list some others of our nation's celebrities. A beautiful motto was pointed out with honest pride by the teacher. It read "Love one another" and it was suggested that if all would act on that principle this would be a beautiful world.

One of the larger boys hastened out as the visitor was leaving and untied the horse which was a pleasant indication of the manners taught at the school.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Opening Session Was Held Thursday —Important Matters Are to Have Attention.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 21.—The Dominion parliament was opened today by his royal highness, the Duke of Connaught. The occasion was marked with the usual ceremonial, which included the firing of a royal salute from Nepean Point and a cavalry escort for the governor general from Rideau Hall to the parliament building and return. The general expectation that the speech from the throne would deal with subjects of far more than ordinary interest and importance to the public led to an unusually large attendance of visitors at the opening.

Unless all signs go astray the parliamentary session now begun will be one of the most contentious and bitter in many years. There is every reason to believe that the much-discussed naval policy will be one of the first matters brought up. The government program involves the voting of an immediate "emergency" contribution of large amount to the British navy, leaving to be negotiated later the terms and conditions of a permanent policy. The opposition, particularly the French-Canadian element, are preparing to make vigorous protest against imposing a vast naval expenditure on the people without their mandate. The government, however, fully expects to get its naval program through parliament, but only after a determined opposition.

Other important subjects on the agenda include important amendments to the Bank act, alterations in the law of naturalization, the West Indian trade agreement, legislation respecting the control of western lands, and several questions of party policy, including that of the tariff.

The redistribution of parliamentary constituencies made necessary by the last census, which will deprive conservative Ontario of four seats and will give the liberal west some twenty-odd seats, may be allowed to go over to the next session. A postponement will, of course, precipitate a bitter opposition from the liberals.

From present indications there will not be a particularly heavy list of private bills at the present session. An exception, however, is the divorce case, which number more than 100 and thus exceed all records.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to date edition, in paper covers. MEDICAL SOCIETY ISSUES BULLETIN ON CANCER

Part of Program of Publicity Being Counted on Against Cancer.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—The Chicago Medical society cancer committee, appointed to co-operate with a similar committee appointed by the clinical congress of surgeons recently on the session in New York, today issued a bulletin in pursuance of the campaign of publicity being carried on against cancer. Following are the recommendations of the bulletin:

"Cancer in the beginning is a local disease.

"No cure for cancer has been discovered, except surgery.

"Cancer, if operated on immediately, will not return.

"Advanced cancer cannot be cured by surgery, hence the need of seeking surgical aid at once.

"Cancer of the breast shows its first sign by a lump in any part of the breast by contraction of the nipple, or by pains under the arm.

"Cancer of the stomach begins with indigestion, loss of flesh and general weakness.

"Cancer of the internal organs shows itself by irregularity in their functions.

"Education of the public on cancer will save thousands of lives each year, as it has done in consumption and appendicitis."

The Chicago Medical society cancer committee has been made permanent and will answer inquiries or furnish literature on application.

HETTY GREEN GROWING OLD.

Richest Woman in the World Has Passed Seventy-Seventh Birthday.

New York, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Hetty Green, mistress of a fortune estimated at close to one hundred millions reached her seventy-seventh birthday anniversary today. The wealthiest woman in the world does not take much stock in birthday celebrations, and the fact that this was the anniversary of her birth caused no variance of her usual routine. The day was remembered, however, with messages and tokens from her son, E. H. R. Green, her daughter Sylvia, and the latter's husband, Matthew A. Wilks.

Mrs. Green has retired from the active management of her vast affairs. Such, at least, was the announcement made more than a year ago, when E. H. R. Green gave up his home in Texas and came to New York for the purpose, as stated, of relieving his mother of the great burden imposed upon her by the care of her colossal fortune. But to all appearances Mrs. Green is still looking after her own affairs. She visits her banking offices daily and it is nothing out of the ordinary for her to attend several directors' meetings between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. In the meantime, "Ned," as she fondly calles her only son, continues to spend much of his time in Texas, where he has large railroad and other interests that require his personal attention.

At the age seventy-seven Mrs. Green is handling the largest fortune possessed by any woman in the world. If the popular estimates are correct her fortune exceeds by some $20,000,000 or more that of Mrs. Russell Sage, who is reckoned the second richest woman in the world.

The weath of Mrs. Green is widely diversified. Her real estate holdings fairly freckle the face of the country. Her property in New York city amounts to millions, while in Boston where the foundation of her immense fortune was laid years ago by real estate investments, she still possesses entire streets of residence and busines property. Her mortgages embrace some of the safest properties in a chain of cities extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Railroads, steamboats, traction roads mines of gold, silver, copper and iron telephones and telegraphs, all contribute to her income, and it is her proud boast that not one investment is a losing proposition.

BROOKLYN'S BUSINESS SESSION.

Rev. F. A. McCarty, District Superintendent, held the first quarterly conference of the Brooklyn church. There was a full representation of all the societies, and all but one or two reported in writing. E. R. Hembrough represented Asbury, but on account of the session coming at night the older officials could not attend. Asbury reported everything moving along splendidly, and the following men were confirmed as trustees, the election having recently been held by the congregation incorporated under the state law: W. A. Reed, president; J. A. Hembrough, secretary; George McKean, treasurer; W. H. Hembrough, W. E. Barrows, A. B. Green, Aaron Howe. George McKean was likewise elected steward to fill his deceased father's place.

At Brooklyn, Dr. George H. Stacey was confirmed as Sunday school superintendent, and Mrs. Estella Clements as Ladies' Aid president, and C. A. Boruff, recorder.

After routine business, the pastor, Rev. H. S. Alkire, presented some questions "for good of the order," and these were freely discussed to the mutual profit of all. Some twelve persons were reported as waiting to be received into the church fellowship, and several candidates for immersion. These will be attended to soon.

Dr. McCarty congratulated the board upon its good showing, and withal the session was one of good feeling and augurs well for the conference year.

DINING FOR SIX CENTS.

Chicago Women Will Show That This Can be Done.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21.—This is to introduce to you the new six cent dinner—the very last word in nutriment and economy and a body blow to the high cost of living.

This inexpensive meal has been devised by the women who make up the Chicago school of domestic arts and sciences and will be cooked and served by them at the exhibit to be given at the first regiment armory next Monday.

Here is one of a number of dinners for a family of six that has been prepared at a cost of 42 cents—or just 7 cents a plate:

One loaf home-made bread	$ .02
Mutton and vegetables en casserole	.25
Steamed rice	.05
Bread pudding custard	.10

Mrs. C. Q. Murphy, who discussed this bill of fare last night, said that the casserole dish would be just as appetizing and contain at least as much nutriment as a steak that ordinarily cost 90 cents. Since it includes vegetables it makes side dishes unnecessary. Steamed rice, much cheaper than potatoes and richer in food value, is included, for good measure.

But the low cost of living enthusiasts hope to show housewives, above all, the folly of buying bread, when they can make better and cheaper bread for 2 cents a loaf. They will prove, they promise, that by their method 285 loves of bread can be made from one sack of flour, which makes the cost of flour for each loaf slightly less than a cent. The additional cent on each loaf is allowed for gas, yeast and other ingredients.

Special attention will also be paid at the exhibit to canning of fruit and food stuffs, preservatives and the kitchen generally.

YATESVILLE.

Bingman, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yancy, Dr. and Mrs. D. N. Harris, Mrs. K. It remained there 11 years, and has now been 5 years in the Courier Bldg. During these 16 years we have loaned approximately two million dollars of Morgan county money on Morgan county land and Jacksonville residence property. GENERAL MARKET NEWS

BALKAN REPORTS EFFECT WHEAT

Reports That Turkey Had Rejected Peace Terms Brings Rally in Market.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Reports that Turkey had rejected the peace terms which the allies had offered brought about a sharp but not lasting rally today in the wheat market. The close was nervous ⅛ to ⅜c under the night before. Latest trading left corn unchanged to a sixteenth down. Oats off ¼@⅜ to ⅝c, and provisions ranging from 7½ decline to an advance of 25c.

Although the wheat market in the last hour quickly overcame early declines, buying due to the alleged check to peace plans became rapidly exhausted on the bulge. Support came chiefly from profit-taking shorts. Believers in higher prices showed but little courage or activity.

Improved harvesting prospects in Argentina tended to pull down wheat prices during most of the session. Good general rains had fallen where wanted, and the weather was clearing elsewhere.

May wheat fluctuated between 89½ and 90⅝c, with last sales 90¼ and 90⅜c, a net loss of ⅛c.

For a while smallness of country offerings gave snap to the buying side of corn. On the ensuing advance, however, selling grew more free, and the gain disappeared. May ranged from 47¼ to 47⅝, closing steady, a shade net lower at 47½@47⅝c.

Foreigners re-selling weakened oats and May which touched outside limits at 31⅞ and 32½, finished ¼@⅜ under last night at 32⅛@32¼c.

Declining prices for hogs resulted in 2½ to 7½c backset for provisions, except January pork. On relatively small dealings, speculators caused an advance of 5c.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, Nov. 21.—In place of the drifting and indecisive tone of the stock market recently, there was a definite improvement today and prices rose easily in all quarters. The movement was a comprehensive one, and the amount of trading, although still comparatively small, was the largest of the week. A long list of stocks, including leading railroad and industrial issues as well as some of the less conspicuous shares, established gains of one to three points.

Several influences combined to give the market a more cheerful appearance. At the opening quotations were affected by the higher range of Americans in London and small gains here were general. Announcement of the engagement of $750,000 gold for importation from London, favorable railroad returns for October optimistic trade reports and the prospects for conclusion of the Balkan war seemed to traders to justify a more bullish position.

In the last hour there occurred the heaviest buying movement of the day, and the market closed strong at the best figures of the session. Although the drop in foreign exchange rates, which yesterday fell to the lowest point since 1910, had indicated the possibility of gold imports, today's announcement came as a surprise, since no engagements were looked for before Monday when the weekly offerings of South African gold will be made in London. It was reported that negotiations were under way for further gold engagements. Money rates held firm, and the market made no response to the bringing in of gold from abroad.

TRAINS DELAYED.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

WILL LECTURE ON EUGENICS.

Dr. Carl E. Black has been asked to give a lecture on Eugenics before the Brotherhood of the Congregational church this evening. The Brotherhood meets at 6:30.

Rev. T. L. Harmon and mother of Chicago are in the city spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Eck on South Main street.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

IF you have ever fumed and fussed, because of dirt and grime and rust, and said unto yourself, "Oh, dear! This household work will kill, I fear"—then it is time that you should find some other method far more kind.

The Easiest Way

Of all the woes a housewife bears, one always fills her day with cares: The kitchen after-meal-time muss, is quite enough to make one fuss. What, with the pots and pails and pans, the knives and forks and plates and cans, no task of man, however grim, the half as mean is handed him.

Two little willing workers aim to enter in this household game: their job, the lessening of work, a task that neither of them shirk. With active little hands and brains they grab the irksome household reins, till soon each kettle, pot or dish, is just as bright as you could wish. And not until the chores are done, from sink to silver, sun to sun, could anything inspire the two, to drop the tasks they have to do.

Therefore, if you have never known, assistance such as we have shown, your troubles end, where joy begins. Now, Mrs. Drudge, the Gold Dust Twins! Henceforth, as dishes congregate, and dingy pots that cannot wait; when cutlery, in sad array, awaits you at the close of day—"Cheer Up!" Forget the labor planned: You have two aids at your command.

The Gold Dust Twins

DR. FRED P. COWDIN TO WED MISS BARLOW

Former Graduate of Illinois College, Now of Springfield, to Wed St. Louis Girl.

The many friends of Dr. Fred P. Cowdin will be surprised to learn of his engagement to Miss Margaret Barlow of St. Louis, the marriage to take place in the near future. Dr. Cowdin is the son of Charles W. Cowdin of the Joy Prairie neighborhood. He was four years a student of Illinois college, graduating with the class of 1905, and was a member of Phi Alpha society. He has been practicing his profession at New Berlin, but recently moved to Springfield. The St. Louis Globe Democrat of Wednesday had a front page picture of the bride and groom to be and the following account of the engagement:

"Close friends of Miss Margaret Barlow of 5502 Cabanne avenue will be surprised to learn of her engagement to Dr. Frederick P. Cowdin of Springfield, Ill., announcement of which was made by cards sent out Wednesday night. Miss Barlow, since February, 1912, has been librarian of the Cabanne Branch Public library, and is well known in West End society circles. She made her debut in 1906, when she was maid of honor at the Veiled Prophet's ball.

Miss Barlow will be the ninth in the line of the library brides, eight of her fellow-workers in the Central and Cabanne and other branch libraries, having preceded her to the altar in less than three years.

She is a daughter of Stephen Douglas Barlow, secretary of the Collier estate, and a grand-daughter of Stephen Barlow, a former president of the Iron Mountain railroad and organizer and first president of the St. Louis Library board. It was mainly through the efforts of her grand-father that the legislature passed measures creating the library board and St. Louis public library.

Miss Barlow is pretty. She attended Washington university after being graduated from Central high school. She finished her course in the St. Louis library training class and received further instruction in library work in Albany, New York.

Dr. Cowdin is a practicing physician in Springfield and a clubman. He is a graduate of Washington university Medical school and Illinois college, Jacksonville, Ill. He is 30 years of age and has many friends in St. Louis.

The marriage will be the culmination of a romance which started four years ago, when Dr. Cowdin was attending Washington university. The wedding date has not been announced, but it will be in the early winter, in St. Louis. Miss Barlow last night said she was in love with her literary work and would not tender her resignation until shortly before the marriage. She is a member of the Maple Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and resides in the Naomi apartments.

It was explained to Pythias that if his friend failed to return he would be kept locked up for seventy days, but he said he would trust Damon longer than that and he was sent below. IS AT HOME AGAIN.

Mrs. Ensley More has returned from Mississippi, where she spent the past six weeks with Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Moore at Indianola. Mrs. Moore reports the cotton crop as turning out well, although some was affected by early frost. This region was overflowed last spring, but it is a question whether the high water will prove a matter of damage in the long run. The old settlers say it is a help to a greater cotton crop.

Just think of it; only 25 cents for a generous jar of EZO, a pleasant, refined ointment that quickly soaks into the pores and in a few minutes brings blessed relief to tired, weary, sore, burning, tender feet. All druggists have it.

It's so easy to use, too—no fuss or bother getting ready—no time wasted—just rub on EZO for the feet and misery vanishes. Used daily it makes weak feet strong and vigorous and draws the agony from corns, bunions and Callouses. It's fine for rough skin, chapped hands and face, chillblains and frosted feet. Armstrong's Drug Store guarantees it.

This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When it is Ill Don't Become Alarmed But Give This Fine Laxative.

MASTER MANUEL.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. Jennie Manuel, mother of Master Manuel, Altamont, Ill., and Mrs. Lewis Huff, Dowagiac, Mich. They and others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly, when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. R. Caldwell, 413 Washington street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

NEGRO IS ACQUITTED OF BRIBING NEW YORK COP

Tells Jury he Thought That Was the Way "They Did Business in New York."

New York, Nov. 21.—Fabian B. McKinney's statement to the jury that he tried to bribe a policeman because he thought it was the way they "did business in New York" was followed by his acquittal today on a charge of bribing Patrolman Arthur Carmack, a member of the "strong arm" squad of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant sentenced to death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

"I thought money could do everything in New York," McKinney explained. "I gave the policeman money because I thought it was the regular thing to do. I had read in the newspapers that it was the way they did business in New York."

The jury deliberated only five minutes before reaching its verdict of acquittal.

McKinney, a negro real-estate dealer of Waterbury, Conn., said he gave Carmack $100 in the basement of the Criminal Court building, "to fix matters up" for a friend who had been arrested in a gambling house raid last February.

BOOSTERS HOLD ANOTHER MEETING

Young Men's Booster Club in Enthusiastic Gathering—New Members Added to Organization.

The Young Men's Booster club held another enthusiastic meeting Thursday night in the rooms of the association, with a good attendance. President Raiph I. Dunlap presided and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Rodgers.

The proposition made by W. D. Gates that the club hold a series of concerts and shows during the coming months, the proceeds to be used by the organization, met with the hearty approval of the members. The shows will be put on by home talent at the opera house. A committee will be appointed to look into the matter.

Letters were read from several men out of the city, including traveling salesmen, commending the young men on the work they were engaged in. The club will endeavor to help Jacksonville by seeing that the railroads grant concessions to the citizens. They propose to have a special car on the Alton for Jacksonville people coming from Roodhouse, the car to be set off here and put back on again. They expect to also ask the Wabash to see that people coming to and from the city to trade are given ample accommodations.

The club expects to offer a prize for a town slogan. The blanks passed around will give the people a chance to express themselves on what Jacksonville needs most. Ballot boxes will be placed in different parts of the city for the voters. Secretary Fritchey was present and offered a number of valuable suggestions. The meetings of the Boosters will be held at 7:30 o'clock during the winter months on the first and third Tuesday of each month.

The following new men were voted into the club: O. Adkisson, Cyrus Andrews, Paul Breckon, H. L. Caldwell, John W. Chipchase, H. D. Dobyns, Edward M. Dunlap, R. W. Fox, Harry A. Frankel, Harry A. Frye, M. R. Gates, Hugh P. Green, E. M. Johnston, A. C. Leedy, C. McCracken, A. C. Metcalf, John P. Meany, L. Percy Owen, T. C. Patton, Louis A. Pieper, Boyd S. Pond, E. C. Roach, Joseph P. DEATH CLAIMS TWO MORE AIR PILOTS

Two French Aviators Succumb to Gravity and Meet With Fatal Fall.

Rheims, France, Nov. 21.—Two aviators were killed today, one, Andre Frey, at Rheims, and the other, Sub-Lieut. Laurent, at Etampes.

Frey finished third in the International Aviation race at Chicago in September of this year. Today he was undergoing military training and had just finished a regular practice flight. He stopped his engine at a height of about 800 feet and planed down until within 150 feet of the ground. Then suddenly the right wing of the monoplane shot upward and the machine dropped to earth. Frey was crushed. The cause of the accident is a mystery, as the machine had been tested thoroughly, and was apparently in perfect condition.

Lieut. Laurent and Sapper Chenu were making a flight near Etampes at a speed of sixty miles an hour when a squall caught the aeroplane as the pilot attempted to make a sharp turn, and dashed it to the ground. Laurent was killed, but Chenu escaped with slight injuries.

Be sure to come to the Christmas opening at the 5 and 10c store, 7:30 to 9 tonight.

LLEWELLYN DAVIS CALLED BY DEATH

Well Known Morgan County Residents Answers Final Summons—Samuel Goodpasture of Concord Dead.

Llewellyn Davis, a well known resident of the east part of the county, died Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock from heart disease. For a long time Mr. Davis has not been a well man and recently he has suffered greatly from heart trouble, and death was not altogether unexpected.

Mr. Davis was born in Londbethel, Wales, March 11, 1830, and came to America in 1855. For two years he resided in Ohio and then came to Illinois. At the breaking out of the civil war he joined the union army in 1861, being a member of the 114th Illinois Volunteers, Company K, that was mustered in at Tallula under Colonel Judy. He was in a number of prominent battles and was wounded several times. At the battle of Vicksburg he received a shot in the forehead, and he bore the marks of the wound until his death. He served in the war for three years.

He was married in 1860 to Miss Catherine Wilson of Tallula, who passed away 32 years ago. They were the parents of four children, one daughter and three sons, all of whom survive as follows: Mrs. Maggie Loertcher of Elma, Wash., J. W. Davis, E. M. Davis, residing east of the city, and S. E. Davis of the Pisgah neighborhood. The family has resided in Philadelphia, Chandlerville and Ashland, but the greater part of the time has been spent in Morgan county. Eight years ago Mr. Davis went to reside at the home of his son, J. W. Davis, where he has been given every kindly administration. Mr. Davis was christianed while in England but had never joined a church in this country. He was a man of strict integrity, upright life and honest in his dealings, and in every way was held in high esteem by his many friends. He was a member of the Masonic lodge.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Samuel Goodpasture.

Samuel Goodpasture, who was overcome by gas in a hotel in Beardstown some three weeks ago, died Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the family residence in Concord. For the first few days after Mr. Goodpasture's accident his life was despaired of, but later on he rallied and seemed to be on the mend. About a week ago, however, he took a relapse and gradually grew worse until the end. It has never been known just how Mr. Goodpasture was overcome by the gas and he never seemed able to give an explanation of the situation.

Mr. Goodpasture was born March 26, 1858, at the old homestead near Concord. He was married June 18, 1884, to Miss Lula Belle Long, who survives him, together with one daughter, Mrs. C. M. Turley of Arenzville. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. D. K. McCarty of the Crackers Bend neighborhood. The deceased had been a farmer most of his life, but since moving to Concord had been engaged in the concrete business. He was a member of the Christian church of Concord and of the Odd Fellows lodge. He was a man whose character and life had commended itself to the best citizens and his death comes as a great loss to the community.

The funeral services will be conducted from the family residence in Concord at 11 o'clock this morning, in charge of Rev. J. G. Reed, pastor of the M. P. church, assisted by Rev. Thomas F. Shaw of the Christian church. Interment will be made in the Concord cemetery.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The November Birthday dinner of the Asbury Ladies Aid society was given Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Barrow and the hostesses for the occasion were: Mrs. Barrow, Mrs. H. F. Trotter, Mrs. Charles Reese and Miss Adelaide Rawlings. A sumptuous dinner, consisting of fowl, beef, mashed potatoes, vegetables, bread, butter, pickles, celery, coffee, ice cream and cake, was served after which an interesting program was given. Quite a large number partook of the hospitality of the occasion and there were several present from Woodson, Jacksonville and Pisgah.

One of the most delightful functions of the fall season was the reception given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. John Spencer Hackett and Mrs. Frank Byrns at the home of Mrs. Hackett, 1404 South Main street. All the appointments were charmingly made and the house was made especially beautiful for the occasion. The decorations in the parlor were pink roses, in the back parlor, white carnations, in the library, red roses. The dining room was made attractive by the use of juvenile chrysanthemums of yellow and white. The center of the table in the dining room was adorned with a large basket, yellow balls of ribbons being in evidence and the dainty chandelarbra with pink shades, when lighted made a most inviting scene. In all the rooms there were ferns and palms.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. A. L. Adams, Mrs. Harry Brady, Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, Mrs. Charles Barnes, Mrs. Charles Price, Mrs. James Hackett, Mrs. William Roberts, Mrs. Arthur Masters, Miss Josephine Morey and Mrs. William Floreth. The hours were from 3 till 5 and the guests numbered three hundred. An elaborate collation was served by Vickery and Merrigan and the afternoon proved one of keen enjoyment.

DR. HANCHER HERE FOR COLLEGE CAMPAIGN

Is Officially Connected With Methodist Educational Board—Believes Money Wanted in Jacksonville Will Be Secured.

Dr. J. W. Hancher who is to have general charge of the Jacksonville Campaign for raising $60,000 for Illinois Woman's college arrived in the city yesterday. Dr. Hancher who is officially connected with the board of education of the Methodist church has been in this line of work for thirty years. He is a man therefore of broad experience and the success which has followed his efforts is the best proof of the wisdom of the methods he follows. Dr. Hancher has been in Jacksonville twice during recent weeks with reference to the campaign here and after looking over the situation carefully is fully convinced that the funds desired and absolutely needed can and will be secured. During the past nineteen years under Dr. Harker's presidency the property of the college has been increased $300,000 and Jacksonville people have contributed but $30,000 of that sum. People away from here keep asking what has Jacksonville done and in raising the sum of $180,000 only one-third has been apportioned to Jacksonville and Morgan county. For every dollar given by a friend of the college here two dollars will be given by someone away from Jacksonville. This is a campaign which will speedily bring money into Jacksonville.

MORTUARY

The remains of John Rottger Spelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Spelman, arrived in the city Thursday morning from Dallas, Texas, and were taken to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, 357 East State street, where funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Brief funeral services were held at Dallas Tuesday afternoon and an abundance of beautiful flowers were brought from that city, the gifts of friends there. The services Thursday afternoon were impressively conducted by Dr. A. B. Morey in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Wallace Brockman, Miss Cora Graham, C. L. Mathis and W. W. Gillham and among the numbers was "Some Day We'll Understand." The flowers were cared for by Miss Mary Knollenberg and Mrs. Wilhelmina Cheek of this city and Mrs. Eugenia R. Curry of Mt. Sterling, cousins of the deceased.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were R. R. Bruning of Havana, T. W. Sweeney of Rushville and J. K. C. Pierson of this city, uncles of the deceased, and Albert Knollenberg of this city, a cousin.

Among those from out of the city to atend the services were: Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bruning of Havana, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sweeney, Mrs. Anna Rottger and Miss Lucille Rottger of Rushville; Mrs. Eugenia R. Curry of Mt. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rottger of Springfield, Mrs. Alice Spelman of St. Louis and Mrs. Walter Goodall of East St. Louis.

Weigand.

Relatives in the city received word Thursday morning announcing the death of Mrs. Sophia Weigand, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Widmayer in Virginia, Thursday morning at 3:45 o'clock. For a number of years Mrs. Weigand had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Brown in Springfield, and it was while visiting with her daughter in Virginia that she became ill, being affected with bronchial trouble with slight symptoms of pneumonia.

Mrs. Sophia (Riehdebusch) Weigand was born in Olenburg, Germany, November 24, 1832, and came to this country when only 6 years of age. February 2, 1860, she was married to Lee Weigand at Sheboygan, Wis., and later came to this city to reside. The family resided in this city for about thirty years and shortly after the death of her husband Mrs. Weigand went to Springfield to reside with her daughter. She is survived by three children—Mrs. R. E. Widmayer of Virginia, Mrs. Warren Brown of Springfield and George Weigand of this city. Mrs. Weigand was a woman who was loved by her children and family and admired by a large circle of friends.

Brief funeral services will be held at the residence of Mrs. Widmayer in Virginia Saturday morning in charge of Rev. C. E. French of the Christian church and the remains will be brought to this city on the morning, C., P. & St. L. train. They will be taken direct to the Salem Lutheran Evangelical church and friends wishing to view the remains may do so by calling at the church after 12 o'clock Saturday. Funeral services will be held at the church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. J. G. Kuppler and interment will be made in Jacksonville cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOLS CLASH IN FOOTBALL

Jacksonville and Bloomington Will Oppose Each Other on Illinois Feld This Afternoon.

From present indications, Bloomington high school will not go up against the regular old J. H. S. football team, when the two squads meet this afternoon at 1:30 on Illinois field, for the last game of ball this season that the local high school eleven will play at home. Three of Jacksonville's best players will be out of the contest, according to the dope. Stewart, the valuable quarter back, has never gotten over his ankle sprain and will be out of the game, his place being filled by McGinnis. It is also stated that Cannon and Burdick will not have on uniforms, on account of parental objections. Their absence from the game came about, on account of the Tuscola contest. After that game the team went to Champaign and instead of returning home Sunday as had been the plan, these young men missed their train and did not arrive in Jacksonville until Monday. The high school feels the loss of these two players and especially at this stage of the season, when the team was rounding into shape and the more so on account of the strenuous game, which the squad has scheduled with Springfield on Turkey day. Johnson, who will play left end today has been on the sick list, so it appears as though the bunch will have to go some if Bloomington is conquered today.

Coach Buland has announced the following lineup—Hale, center; Allcott, right guard; Haigh, left guard; Hall, left tackle; Reed, right tackle; Johnson, left end; Kolp, right end; McGinnis, quarter back; Johnson, full back; Reeve, left half; Maddox right half.

Larson will referee the game and Paul Thompson will act as umpire. The game is called early in order to let the Illinois college team have the field to practice for the game here Saturday against Normal university.

GOES TO BLOOMINGTON TODAY.
Dr. Joseph R. Harker will go to Bloomington today to attend an executive committee meeting of the forward Educational movement at which various important matters will come up for consideration. Incidentally Dr. Harker will take some notes on the progress of the campaign in Bloomington where a committee of 100 is working under Bishop Lewis in raising $125,000 as the part of a fund needed for Illinois Wesleyan university.
